- The current price consolidation of nearly 50% off the all-time highs represents a final, seldom investment opportunity! Strong newsflow expected in the next few weeks!

Dear Readers,

the renowned global banking association 'Institut for International Finance' came out a few weeks ago with a worrying estimate of the amount of global debt:

The debt are expected to rise dramatically to the end of the third quarter of 2020 to

$ 275 trillion or $ 276,000,000,000,000 USD

And what are the central banks doing in such an environment?

They react as always in the past ... with a massive expansion of their central bank balance sheets, which sooner or later reduces monetary stability and weakens confidence in the financial system as we know it.

In 2020 alone, central banks around the world added assets totaling 9.2 trillion US dollars to their balance sheets.

By way of comparison: This amount is roughly three times as high as it was during the 2008 financial crisis!

Source: Bloomberg, Crescat Capital

Rising gold prices are the only option in such an environment:

We expect precious metal prices to rise sharply in the coming months. If Bitcoin manages to gain several hundred percent in value within a few months, then we should not forget gold, silver and companies from the sector! And gold & silver have already proven their function as a store of value and a means of exchange of payment for several thousand years. A quite respective track record....

You can benefit now by investing in high quality gold stocks, like Tudor Gold, from phenomenal portfolio gains in this current gold bull market! Tudor Gold Corp. (WKN: A2AJ7Y, Frankfurt: TUC, TSX-V: TUD)

Tudor Gold has published several news releases in the past few weeks. One of them was the announced as of December 22nd, 2020 (link here) stating that renowned gold expert Ronald-Peter Stoeferle had been appointed to the Tudor Board of Directors. He has been supporting Tudor Gold as a consultant since March 2017.

This top management addition comes to a perfect time for Tudor Gold. The company has recently completed the impressive 2020 exploration program and has forwarded all drill results to the external resource geologists.

Shareholders and market participants expect that the maiden (NI-43-101) resource for the Goldstorm Zone on their flagship Treaty Creek project in Canada will be released within the next few weeks (!). This will be a major milestone for the company.

And this resource could represent one of the largest gold deposit discoveries found in North America in the past 10 years and result in a significant revaluation of the stock.

We believe that the waiting for this great anticipated milestone will be worthwhile for all existing and new Tudor Gold shareholders.

It is to be expected that Ronni Stoeferle, who is well connected in the gold industry, will act as a door opener to large precious metal producers in future M&A discussions.

If Tudor Gold lives up to the high expectations of market participants and publishes a sizable gold resource of 15-30 million ounces on Treaty Creek, we believe that an unprecedented takeover battle for one of the most attractive gold projects in Canada will ensue.

Let's not forget that Tudor Gold was founded by Mr. Walter Storm. The legendary businessman, mining investor was financier and co-founder of Osisko Mining, which was sold for CAD 4.5 billion in 2014.

Tudor Gold is his next big deal and we are sure that the top 25 producers will be highly interested in this world class project!

Top location: Treaty Creek is only about 20-25 kilometers away from Highway 37 and can therefore be connected to the nearby infrastructure at a low cost!

A clear decisive advantage over some other projects in the Golden Triangle region.

Let's get back to Ronald-Peter Stoeferle: The renowned gold expert recently made a remarkable gold price prognosis in an interview: He believes a gold price of 4,800 and even 8,900 USD is possible in the next few years!

"In the In Gold We Trust Report 2020 we developed a proprietary gold price model that calculates the future gold price based on the two parameters of the development of the money supply and the implicit gold coverage ratio. Even with a conservative calibration of the model, the price target for the gold price at the end of this decade is $ 4,800. Assuming a significantly more inflationary development of the money supply, similar to that in the 1970s, the target price is 8,900 US dollars."

We recommend reading the 'gold standard' among the sector publications from Incrementum AG: (DOWNLOAD LINK)

Interested readers will find an enormous number of influencing factors, facts and background information on the gold market here. We think: This gold publication is very worth reading and provides innumerable reasons to buy precious metals.

The current share price of Tudor Gold reflects in no way the intrinsic value and prospects of the company. It offers forward-looking investors one of those rare entry opportunities, because:

Cyclical bull markets never go only (up) in one direction: Even the shares of one of the biggest gold miners, Barrick Gold, have also fallen over 30% since their summer 2020 highs.

And with the quality stock Tudor Gold, smart investors have already achieved sensational price gains in the past and massively outperformed the gold price! Stock price performance in 2019: + 229% and up to + 493% in 2020!

The current price weakness has absolutely nothing to do with the fundamental position of the company.

The company announced the last set of drill results from the 2020 drilling season last week. (Link news release here)

For all new readers, we have briefly put together some background information on Tudor Gold:

Tudor Gold is a precious and base metal exploration company with properties in the 'Golden Triangle' of British Columbia, an area of producing or past producing mines and several large deposits near potential development.
